FALL PROGRAM

September 17th “Coffee Morning”

11:00 am: off to: KATONAH MUSEUM Dress Codes: Clothing as Metaphor $25

Toward the end of the 20th century, many artists seized upon the idea and form of clothing as a subject for their work. The 36 artists in Dress Codes use clothing to explore a variety of issues ranging from feminine concern, racial stereotyping, and immigration to globalization, current events, and the violence of war. Many of the works explore a number of these subjects concurrently, reflecting the complexity of contemporary life.
